HIGHLIGHTS

Top Hidden Gems & October Beers

These are the ones that'll make the club say "wait, what is this?"

Fuggles & Warlock

Richmond — Stop #25

Most unique brewery concept in Canada. Asian-inspired ingredients: matcha, taro, lychee, yuzu, ube. Their cans have anime art. Nobody in the club will have had anything like this.

 GET THIS

Taro Milk Tea Stout

Dageraad Brewing

Burnaby — Stop #22

World-class Belgian ales hiding in a Burnaby industrial park. Their dubbels and tripels rival actual Belgian imports. Criminally under-known outside craft enthusiast circles.

 GET THIS

Burnabarian Dubbel

Andina Brewing

Strathcona — Stop #15

Colombian-inspired craft using quinoa, aji amarillo chili peppers, and passionfruit. Genuinely one-of-a-kind in Canada. The aji pale ale is unlike anything else in the lineup.

 GET THIS

Aji Amarillo Pale Ale

Luppolo Brewing

East Van — Stop #21

Italian-inspired lagers and pilsners in a city completely obsessed with IPAs. The anti-hazy. Crisp, noble-hopped, continental craft that feels like it flew in from Milan.

 GET THIS

Italian Pilsner

October-Themed Beer Picks

The beers that feel right for October — dark, autumnal, or literally named for the holiday

Play Dead IPA

Yellow Dog Brewing — Stop #29

Literally Halloween-named. The centerpiece October beer. Club will love the name drop.

33 Acres of Darkness

33 Acres — Stop #10

Dark stout with a perfectly autumnal, evocative name. Mount Pleasant staple.

Electric Märzen

Steel & Oak — Stop #23

German Oktoberfest tradition in a can. The seasonal lager October was made for.

Heroica Oatmeal Stout

Steamworks — Stop #4

Dark, rich, roasty. Steam-brewed and autumnal. The well-known pick that earns its spot.

Burnabarian Dubbel

Dageraad — Stop #22

Belgian autumn warmth. Dark fruit, caramel, spice. October in Belgian form.

Taro Milk Tea Stout

Fuggles & Warlock — Stop #25

The wildcard. Taro + milk tea in a stout. Nobody sees this coming. That's the point.

Call Ahead Before Committing (volume risk)

These breweries are small enough that 40–50 cans of a single beer may not be available — confirm before adding to the final list

Container Brewing (#16)	Very small-batch — confirm volume for 40-50 cans	Beere Brewing (#5)	Tiny taproom — confirm operational + volume
Northpaw Brew Co (#30)	Nano-production — confirm can volume	Brassneck Brewery (#11)	Historically taproom-focused — confirm canned releases
Callister Brewing (#17)	Incubator — confirm which tenant + their can lineup	Dogwood Brewing (#24)	Verify current operational status

us Bellingham WA — Overflow (if needed)

⚠ Import note: CBSA limits personal imports to ~1,14L. Bulk US beer for 40-50 cans per brewery needs planning (licensed importer or individual member trips).
